BAD FOR ALLISON. NEXT FIGHT.

A COMBINATION AGAINST HIM.

erats Looking About for Some One to Run for Senator—A High License Law to Take Place of Prohibition.

CHICAGO, November 11.-A dispatch to the one from DesMoines, Iowa, says there is idently going to be a lively time in the legislature. The republican majority is so small that every effort will be brought to bear for defeat of Senator Allison, and the enact-nt of a high license law. Whether either of a high license law. Whether either of these can be accomplished, remains to be seen. Already the democrats are casting about for a suitable candidate for United States sensior for whom a few republicans can induced to vote. Flushed with their victory in the election of governor, they naturally jum to their successful candidate as the most vallable man, but there is a stundling block in the way in shape of the probable defeat of didate for lieutenant-governor; in which event, to take Mr. Boies out of the governor's chair, would be to put a republican nant-governor in it.

There seems to be little doubt now that the liquor law will be changed so mewhat, even to the extent of the enactment of a high license law. This is not only the desire of the demo law. This is not only the desire of the demoeratic party but seems to be the will of the majority of the people as expressed at the polls last Tuesday. Already the republican lader, 'ike Congressmen Henderson and Reed, and republican papers like the Sioux. City Journal have not hositated to say that problbition was the prime cause of the republican defeat, and to express the belief that a high license law will be enacted this winter. The republican party as a party has never espoused the prohibition cause, but has always stood in the attitude of carrying out the will of the people.

Now it seems to be the feeling of the people that they have had enough of extreme prohibition, and are willing to return to high license. It will be an easy matter for enough republicans in the legislature to combine with the democrats and give them the change demanded.

THE G. A. R. MEN MAD

use One of Their Number Has Been Bounced.

ROME, Ga., November 11.-[Special.]-A ROME, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]—A special from Birmingham says: "The appointment today by the president of L. G. Jeffers to be superintendent of construction of public buildings for Alabama, will cause great excitement in the state among the G. A. R. men, and others, and is likely to raise a rupt ure with the administration and the G. A. R. men all over the country.

ure with the administration and the G. A. R. men all over the country.

Jeffers came to Birmingham three years ago from Kansas as an exponent of the K. of L. Previous to coming to Birmingham he had championed the cause of every "ism" known in politics, meeting with little success. After Harrison's inauguration he went to Washington and struck up with Tanner, and got pensions rerated, working meanwhile for his present appointment. The office to which he is appointed was first given James Allen, an Englishman. He was afterwards removed.

James Allen, an Englishman. He was afterwards removed.

F. G. Shepherd then got the office, the man who was today removed for Jeffers. This is where the trouble comes in. Shepherd is commander of the Grand Army of the Republic most in Alabama, and has the indorsement of the Grand Army of the Republic men everywhere. Indignation at his removal is great, and it is openly condemned on all sides. It is said it will cause a fresh quarrel be tween the Grand Army of the Republic men and the administration. The latter is demonsed in unmeasured terms, and it is thought that Jeffers's removal will either be asked for or indignation at his appointment will be expressed to President Harrison by a committee of Sheppard's G. A. R. friends.

TARDY ATTORNEYS.

A New Rule of the Supreme Court Surprises

Washington, November 11 .- The new rule shopted by the supreme court of the United States seems to have taken by surprise quite a number of attorneys practicing before the court. Heretofore it has been the practice of the court, each morning, to call the first case on the day calendar, and if argument of this one case occupied the whole day, then no other case was called. Under the new rule as soon as the court opens each day the first ten cases are called, and counsel in each one of them are expected to have notified the clerk that they intend to the country of the c expected to have notified the intend to make an oral argument if it is thei purpose so to do. If proper notifications in all these ten cases have been made, then argu-ment is proceeded with in the first case and ment is proceeded with in the first case and the others come up in their turn. If the clerk responds that the record and briefs in any case have not been printed the court summarily dismisses the suit. If the record and briefs are on file, but counsel have not notified the clerk that they are ready for argument, the case is submitted under the showing made in the briefs and the attorneys lose the right of argument. If the record only is printed, the case is continued and goes over for one term, thus being delayed a year. The object of the new rule is to expedite the work of the court, and its effect is seen in the fact that business of the court is now two weeks ahead of the last term. The change in rules which has been made, does not, however, seem to have attracted the at tention of attorneys practicing before the court, or else they do not understand its effect, for counsel in about forty cases have already been caught napping and have had their suits subjected to the penalties of this new rule.

EXAMINING LIBERTY BELL.

The International Delegates Entertained by the Philadelphiana. PHILADELPHIA, November 11.—The international American excursionists started out at 10 o'clock this morning on a round of sight-seeing, accompanied by ladies of their party who had come on from Washington and New York Saturday to join them. The first point visited was Wannamaker's mammoth dry goods and reties attablishment. goods and notions establishment, where the party was escorted through the different departments of the store. The delegates next visited Seller's machine shops and Baldwin's Locomotive works, where luncheon was spread for their refreshment. At the Baldwin shops the delegates saw several locomotives in process of manufacture that are intended for use on the Chilian railway system. Carriages were again taken and the party intended for use on the Chilian railway system. Carriages were again taken and the party proceeded through Fairmount park to the falls of Schuylkill, where an hour was spent in inspecting Dobson mills, with their 3,000 employes at work making carpets, pluahes, velvets and weolen cloths, much of it made from South American wools. On their return trip a stop was made at Independence hall, and the early history of the country, as epitomized in the liberty bell, and other relics, was closely studied. After dinner the delegates, with their wives, were formally received at the Union League clubbouse.

Blaine, stating that the president had signed the admission proclamation. Instantly every member sprung to their feet and the entire house and spectators cheered for some minutes. When order was restored, one of the members, Tucker, an old pioneer of the state, rose to his feet, and in a brief speech, trembling with emotion, congratulated the legislature and people on admission.

In the senate a proclamation was also received with continued cheering and the wildest enthusiasm. In view of the proclamation admitting the state, the resolution to elect senators tonight was laid on the table, and it is understood no election will take place until Tuesday of next week. The inauguration of new state officers will take place next Wednesday.

TWO LIBEL SUITS.

An Army Officer Sued for Damages-Colonel Chipley Sues a Newspaper. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., November 11 .- On Saturday last Captain Henry Marcotte, of the United States army, who accompanied Sena tor Call to Pensacola, had papers in a libel snit for $10,000 damages served on him there. A letter to the Times Star, Cincinnati, signed "Mascotte" Ohio dated, "On the Wing of Florida," September 14, 1889, is what the suit is based on. Titles to land grants are the questions which the letter deals with. The railroad officials who bring the suit assert that Captain Marcotte will have an opportunity now to prove whether or not these titles are valid. If he answers in the civil suit, it is stated that they will produce evidence upon which the prosecute him for criminal libel.

A Pensacola special to the Times-Union tonight says that Colonel W. D. Chipley today entered a libel suit for $10,000 damages against the Pensacola Commercial for charging that he had embezzled lands from the state in the interest of the Pensacola and Atlantic Railway company, of which he is vice-president, and land commissioner. Boston, November 11.—George Francis Train was brought before Judge McKim in the probate court this morning, where testimony was given by several witnesses as to the mental hallucinations of the psychic seer.

Dr. Elisha Boland testified that he had had several interviews with Mr. Train. The general drift of the doctor's evidence was in favor of the theory of insanity. The doctor used the special term "primary monomania," which, he said, meant insanity.

After hearing the evidence and arguments of counsel, Judge McKim gave his decision that Citizen Train was not insane enough to be confined in an asylum, but evidently of unbalanced mind, and therefore not properly held in durance for debt. He was therefore

Mr. Train says he will not go back to New York until he has laid bare the wickedness of Boston, which he knows to be a sink of iniquity. He will deliver a lecture in the Boston Music hall tomorrow night.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., November 11.—Frank J.
Lee, who accompanied Sam Jones, the revivalist, to this city last winter as his private secretary, is now locked up in the city prison on a charge of burglary. On Tuesday he introduced himself to Ticket Agent Thompson, at the Southern Pacific company's office, as the nephew of a prominent railroad official, and was invited into the office. While the agent was not looking Lee stole a quantity of railroad tickets and left on the east bound train.
He was captured at Colfax and brought back from that place this morning. The tickets were found in his possession, and also a letter of introduction, to which he had forged the name of E. B. Willis, managing editor of the Record Union. The letter was written on Willis' type-writing machine, which he had permitted Lee to use.

GREETING THE CARDINALS AT THE

ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO DELEGATES eech of Mr. Dougherty—Two Indian Chiefs Make Their Way Through the Crawd to Salute the Cardinals. BALTIMORE. November 11 .- Twelve hundred delegates to the first congress of Catholic lay-men of the United States, were called to order shortly before noon today by Hon. W. J. Onahan, of Chicago.

Every seat in the Concordia hall was filled and the galleries crowded with spectators.

The first applause of the assembly was elicited by the entrance of ex-Governor John Lee Carroll, with Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, and Mr. Onahan. Archbishop Ireland briefly invoked the divine blessing.

In a few spirited remarks, introducing exGovernor Carroll as temporary chairman, Mr.
Onahan mentioned the name of Pope Leo.
Instantly there was hand clapping and cheers Onahan mentioned the name of Pope Leo. Instantly there was hand clapping and cheers all over the hall, soon growing into a tumult of enthusiasm. The scene was a notable one as the delegates swung their hats and shouled greeting to the Roman pontiff. Mr. Onahau's suggestion that he hoped not far distant to see an international congress of lay Catholics also met with hearty approbation.

Ex-Governor Carroll on taking the chair was warmly applauded. He said: "It may be that the question will be asked by what authority is this congress held, and under what law does it assemble? In reply to this we would suggest, by sanction of his eminence, cardinal archbishop of Baltimore, and distinguished prelates who now surround us, and by virtue of the authority of the constitution of the United States."

He said that this congress, so auspiciously begun, will be but the forerunner of others yet to come, and that the Catholics of the United States will look to these congresses with pride and satisfaction. This congress has but two great purposes at heart: glory and progress of the Catholic church, and continued prosperity of the American people. [Applause long continued.]

The following cablegram from Rome was read:

HIS EMINENCE, CARDINAL GIBBONS, Deliftnore—
Having made known to the holy father the expressions of devotion conveyed to him on the part of the Catholic congress to be held in Baltimore, his holiness graciously bids me say that he most affectionately imparts his blessing to all members.

Daniel Dougherty, of New York, was invited by the chairman to address the congress pending the appointment of committees. The famous orator, who more than once has placed in nomination presidential candidates of one famous orator, who more than once has placed in nomination presidential candidates of one of the great parties of, the country in national convention, and held those great assemblages spellbound with his superb eloquence, was today in his best form and voice. He was given a perfect ovation by the congress. Standing for a moment immovable as a fine statue, the speaker's facer lighted up, and acknowledging the applause with exquisite courtesy, addressed the gathering.

All through Mr. Dougherty's address there were outbursts of cheers.

At the conclusion cheering was renewed again and again, while dignitaries on the stage, bishops and archbishops among them, crowded around him and shook him warmly by the hand.

around him and shook him warmly by the hand.

Father Nugent, a distinguished clergyman of Liverpool, England; Hon. Honore Mercier, prime minister of Quebec, and ex-United States Senator Francis Kernan, of New York, followed in brief addresses congratulating the congress on its successful inauguration.

Cardinal Gibbons, in his scarlet robes, entered the hall while Senator Kernan was speaking, accompanied by a committee of lay men which the congress, by the vote at the beginning of the session, had sent to invite him to be present. Side by side with Cardinal Gibbons and the equally brilliant array was Cardinal Taschereau, of Canada.

Cardinal Taschereau, of Canada.

The two cardinals were heartily cheered by the congress. The cardinals were formally introduced to the congress by Chairman Carroll and Cardinal Gibbons addressed the delegates, welcoming them in his own name and that of the needle of Baltimore irrespective of that of the people of Baltimore, irrespective of gates, welcoming them in his own hame and that of the people of Baltimore, irrespective of creed.

The cardinal paid a high tribute to the "irrepressible west," which, he said, had brought about the congress when he himself was scarcely in favor of it at this time. Archbishop Ireland was complimented highly for his share in the enterprise and for his stand in public matters in general. The cardinal said the laity have the right and also the duty of co-operating with the clergy in every good work affecting society, the country and the church at large. The clergy and laity ought to come closer together, and the clergy in America have much to learn from the worldly knowledge and practical spirit of the American laymen. It was from them that the clergy received their support--not, thank God, on the silver salver of the government, but from the warm hands and hearts of the people. He urged the delegates to show in their proceedings the liberty and independence that characterize freemen. [Cheers.]

The city was beautifully illuwas in progress at the hall occupied by the congress today. The city was beautifully illuminated during the reception, particularly Cardinal Gibbons's residence and the homes of the Catholic laity in every quarter. Fronts of houses and public places were profusely hung with lighted Chinese lanterns, while churches, by means of innumerable gas jets, were outlined to the apex of their steeples in fire. The cathedral seemed outside a blaze of electric lights, while the interior was radiant with fifty huge arc lamps. To crown all, beacon fires were lighted on eminences in outlying districts, so that is might be almost fancied that the glare met and shone in the heavens over the city.

In the reception hall, the jam of people was almost suffocating, but hundreds of ladies stood in the throng for hours eager to see and hear everything.

An address of welcome to the distinguished guests was delivered by Ex-Congressman Roberts, of Maryland. While he was speaking two Indian chiefs, in the full panoply of gayest feathers and embroidered colored blankets, were seen making their way through the crimson vestured prelates to where stood Cardinal Gibbons.

With selemn mein the Indians reached for the hand of the noted ecclesiastic, and bending low silently kissed his arch-Episcopal ring, while the spectators stood in wondor, finally breaking into cheers. The Indians were both Catholics—Chief Joseph of the Flatheads, of Montana, and Chief White, Bird of the Sloux, of Dakota. They were given seats of bonor close beside the cardinal with their traveling companion, Father Van Gorp, S. J., of the Rocky Mountain mission. Mountain mission.

Following the address of welcome came reply on behalf of the prelates by Archbishop Elder.

THE BASEBALL LEAGUE.

The Board of Arbitration Hold a Meeting

In New York.

New York, November 11.—The board of arbitration of the baseball league met in the Fifth Avenue hotel today to take action with regard to the qualification necessary for players who wish to join the National league and American association. The board consisted of Messra. Young, Day and Rogers, of the league, and Kranthoff, Sterne and Byrne, of the association.

Asix hour session was held in the afternoon. President Young and Secretary Byrne were relegied for the ensuing year. The board met again in New York.

resident Young and Secretary Byrne were re-elected for the ensuing year. The board met again at 8:30, and remained in session until near reidnight, At the close of the session Secretary syrne announced that no material change had been made in the national agreement. There were several changes in articles of qualified admission. The words "black list" had been eliminated and "ineligible" substituted. It was decided to give the minor leagues power to control and reserve players the same as the National league and the the minor leagues power to control and reserve players the same as the National league and the association; that is, when a player refuses to sign a contract, a club can reserve him from year to year. He cannot, however, be indefinitely suspended.

A rule was adopted prohibiting any minor league from playing a game with any club that contains ineligible players or that has played with a club in which are ineligible players.

Annual dues for the right of reservation will be the same next year as last. During the evening, while the bard of arbitration was conducting its business behind closed doors, Mike Kelly came to the hotel. He was greeted by Director Soden, of the Boston club, and the two held an earnest consultation for some fifteen minutes. That there was something in the wind was evident, and it was rumored that Mike was ready to sign the league contract; but no one could be found who would state positively that such was a fact.

A. G. Spalding spoke quite freely on the brotherhood question tonight. He told the whole story of the difficulty. He said that Ward came to his store in Chicago in June and said that the brotherhood wanted an immediate conference. In answer to Spalding's query, Ward said that first the players demanded a modification of the sale system; second, the classification rule abolished, and, third, that the league should consider the case of Sutcliffs, the Cleveland catcher, who was transferred from the Detroits at a reduced salary. Mr. Spalding states that he conferred with other league directors, and as it was then in the middle of the championship season, it was decided that the requests of the brotherhood was entirely uncalled for. The league had never held a special meeting in the middle of the championship season, and it was deemed universe to do so then. Mr. Spalding was confident that the old players would steke to Chicago, and he said that those who did get out could easily be replaced. He had no doubt but that every player could be held on the reservation law in all courts of t

THEY WILL SERVE THEIR TERM. cross and White, the Bank Forgers, Gain

Nothing by Their Appeal.
Washington, November 11.—The wellrnown case of Charles E. Cross and Samuel known case of Charles E. Cross and Samuel C. White, defaulting president and cashier, respectively, of the State National bank of Raleigh, N. C., was finally disposed of today by an opinion rendered by Justice Harlan in the United States supreme court. The effect of the decision will be to compel Cross and White to serve out the term for which they were sentenced, Cross and White, officers of the bank, forged a note for $6,250 and falsely entered it on the books of the bank as a part of the assets of the institution with the intent to deceive the national bank examiner as to the condition of the bank. They were tried for forgery in the courts of Clarke county, N. C., and convicted. The case comes before the United States su preme court principally on the claim set up The case comes before the United States su preme court principally on the claim set up that the offense is cognizable in the federal but not in the state courts. It was contended that United States courts have exclusive jurisdiction to try defendants, for having made false entries in the bank's book that the forgery of the note was an essential element in such entries, and that a recognition of the right of the state to try them for the forgery would defeat the jurisdiction of the United States to subsequently try them for making false entries, an offense over which the United States courts have exclusive jurisdiction.

The fallacy of this argument, the court says, is in assuming that the making of false entries is in assuming that the making of false entries necessarily involves the crime of forgery. Either crime would have been complete without the other. That crime against a state could not be condoned by committing another and distinct crime against the United States. Some other minor points are also decided against the convicted men.

THE CRONIN MURDER TRIAL

Kunze Identified as a Man W th Aliases-Cronin's Clothes in Court. CHICAGO, November 11.-In the Cronin trial today a number of witnesses identified Kunze as a man who had passed under several differas a man who had passed under several different names, and also to his being in company with Detective Coughlin. Testimony was also introduced to show that Burke was without money shortly before Cronin's murder, but immediately after he was in funds and was able to take a trip to Winnipeg. Other testimony went to show that Beggs had several times, and to different people, endeavored to create the impression that Cronin was alive and would eventually turn up; that he had disappeared with a woman, and in other ways endeavored to create a false scent.

The foreman of the sewer cleaners described the finding of Cronin's clothes and the case of instruments last Friday. These articles were then brought into court and identified by Mrs. Conklin as being the clothes Cronin were and the instruments he carried with him on the night he was decoyed away. Adjourned.

THE MYSTERIOUS STRANGER. MILWAUKEE, Wis., November 11.—A special to the Evening Wisconsin from Ripon, Wis., says: The following was found written

Wis., says: The following was found written on the wall at Central hotel Sunday morning:

"P. H. Cronin, M. D., his watch will be found at 371 South Clark streets third floor, room No. 11, 113x610x40."

A stranger who did not register was at the hotel Saturday, leaving on an evening train and the landlord thinks the writing was done by this man. Inquiry at Chicago elicited the fact that the Chicago address given is that of a Jewish pawnshop in a squalld quarter. The rooms of the building are rurnished and rented to tenants. Other occupants of the building say room 11 has been occupied by two mysterious men, of whom they know nothing. The Wisconsin's information was communicated to State Attorney Longenecker in the courtroom, and detectives were dispatched to make a thorough investigation of the tenants of the building.

TRAGEDY AT HEFLIN. Charles A. Smith Shot and Killed by Calvin

Brown.

Braningham, Ala., November 11.—[Special.] BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November II.—[Special.]
News reached this city tonight of a sensational tragedy at Heflin, Cleberne county, one hundred miles east of here. Charles A. Smith, a prominent republican politician, and a brother of ex-Governor William A. Smith, of this city, was shot and killed by Calvin Brown, a prominent democrat. It is said the killing was the result of a political quarrel. Smith was a prominent and wealthy citizen.

Charged With Murdering His Mother-in Charged With Murdering His Mother in Law.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nouember 11.—[Special.]—A special from Selma states that John Starling, son-in-law of Mrs. Conia Brown, who was murdered Friday night, was arrested to-day charged with her murder and that of her little grandsom. The arrest was the result of the coroner's inquest held today. Starling was taken to jall at Smithfield. It was thought up to this time that the negroes had murdered the woman to prevent her from being a witness against Shadrich Peters, colored, who is on trial for his life at Smithfield.

New York Anarchists.

New York, November 11.—The meeting in Cooper Union tonight, held in memory of the execution of the Chicago anarchists, was largely attended and passed off quietly. A big force of police was on hand. S. E. Shevitch and Herr Most were the principal speakers.

sion of flash powder occurred at the chemical manufacturing establishment of Wiley & Wallace, No. 123 North Seventh streef, shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon, by which here men were instantly killed, one fatally injund and another seriously injured.

A large bottle of flash powder had been standing on the shelf in the establishment for a long time, and Joseph Wiley, a member of the firm, determined to get rid of it on a count of its dangerous nature. He took the bottle to a sink in rear of the basement, and calling to his assistance Charles Rinedollar, chemist, and Rudolph Lippman, an employe, proceeded to pour the stuff down the sink. Rinedollar held the hose and played water on the compound as it ran from the bottle and Lippman assisted Wiley. William Kidd, another employe, stood by and watched the proceedings. Just exactly how the explosion occurred will never be known, but it is believed that the powder, on account of its age, was slow in running from the bottle and that Wiley must have struck it against the sink to loosen it. Immediately there was a terrific explosion accompanied by a desfening report, the force of which shook houses in the neighborhood.

Wiley, Lippman and Rinedollar were instantly killed, their bodies being dashed against the walls of the basement and literally torn to pieces. Kidd was frightfully injured, and thus escaped the full force thereof. He is very badly hurt, but bis injuries are not believed to be fatal. Thomas Haslam, book-keeper, was slightly injured. As soon as the explosion occurred an alarm of fire was sounded and the firemen did good service in the way of helping the injured and removing the dead. Thirteen girls and a number of men were employed on the upper floors, and they were panic stricken by the shock. The girls attempted to and some of them fainted, thus adding to the excitement. The building and stock were badly damaged, all of the windows and bottles being smashed, the lower floors torn up and the walls damaged.

Wiley was thirty-eight years old, and lived in Germantown. He was a senior member of the firm, and leaves a wife and several children. Chemist Rinedollar, was twenty-nine years old and unmarried. Lippman was nineteen, and Kidd is twenty-one.

The explosion is probably indirectly due to a suit brought a vainst the firm by the father of John D. Cruice, a sixteen year old boy, who lost his life about a year ago by an explosion of flash powder. Young Cruice was employed in the laboratory, and while he was handling some of the powder it exploded, killing him. His father sued for damages, alleging that the firm was negligent in allowing the boy to handle so dangerous a compound. The case was up for trial today, but was postponed, and Wiley, on his return from court, declared that he would get rid of the powder then in the cellar, of which there was some left on hand after the explosion which killed Cruice. He proceeded to destroy the powder, with the result related above.

ACCIDENT WHILE GUNNING.

Rev. Mr. Henderson's Gun Accidently Dis-charged, Killing Mr. Jones. Rome, Ga., November 11.—A shocking accident occurred today two miles from Cedar-town. Rev. C. K. Henderson, pastor of the Baptist church at Cedartown, accidentally shot Gabe Jones, killing him instantly. The men were out bird hunting in an open field. Mr. Henderson was in advance of Jones with his gun cocked and over his shoulder. Mr. Henderson's gun was accidentally discharged and the load entered Jones's head, scattering his brains upon the ground. DEATH AT THE CURVE.

An Accident on the Carolina Central Rail-CHARLOTTE, N. C., November II.—[Special.]
A bad wreck occurred on the Carolina Central railroad, twelve miles from Wilmington, between Phaenix and Northwest, this morning. A freight train left Wilmington at 4 o'clock this morning and was shortly followed by a material train. While standing at a wood yard the material train came thundering along yard the material train came thundering along around a curve and was in a few feet of the freight before any one was aware of danger. Gaston Means, engineer, on the material train, quickly reversing the engine, called to the fireman, George Smith, to jump, at the same time lyimping off himself. Smith, however, failed to jump and met a horrible death in the cab. G. R. Blackwell, of Durham, a drummer, was in passenger coach attached to the freight and he was rather badly hurt, being cut across the nose and face. Others are said to be injured but their names cannot be learned tonight. Both trains were badly wrecked.

WASHINGTON CHURCHMEN

WASHINGTON CHURCHMEN

Listen to a Sermon by Bishop Gaines of the A. M. E. Church.

Washington, Ga., November 11.—[Special.] Sunday the congregation of the white Methodist church in Washington invited Bishop Gaines, of the African Methodist church, to preach to them in the afternoon. There was no services at that hour in the other churches, and there was a large congregation of white people to listen to Bishop Gaines, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians. The services were wholly conducted by memmers of the African conference, five negro preachers being assembled on the platform of the pulpit. They were the Revs. Coppin, editor of the African American Review, published at Philadelphia, Dr. Johnson, General Chester and Rev. Robertson. The gallery was filled with the colored people. The large audience of whites listened with great attention. Bishop Gaines's subject was "Prayer." He wrote his discourse perhaps because he was a little embarrassed, but it was preached with great animation, and at the end he became extemporaneous. He spoke of his being a native of Wilkes county, and said the site of the church in which he was preaching was a sacred spot to him. He was very animated, has a few peculiarities of produnciation, and preached a good sermon, which interested his audiedce.

The five negroes who conducted the services were unusually large men. The smallest mush have weighed two hundred pounds, and the five probably reached nearly twelve hundred pounds. One, the editor, has a little white blood, but they were black in the main.

Some of the other preachers have better education than Bishop Gaines, and, it is said, are better preachers. But he far surpasses them, probably, as a presiding and ruling officer. In this he shows very great tact and practical judgment. When he comes to this place the Methodists always ask him to preach, as he was once a member of their church, and is much respected by those who know him.

A Woman Killed.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., November 11.—[Special.]—There was a terrible tragedy at Newell's station, about ten miles north of here, on the Richmond and Danville railroad yesterday. Ed Johnson shot and instantly killed Jane Campbell. Jane was at Johnson's house and pointed a pistel at his wife, just in fur. Jackson tried to wrest it from her, when it was discharged, the ball entering the woman's head and killing her instantly. Johnson claims that the shooting was accidental, as he did not know the pistel was loaded. He was the woman's nucle. All colored.

ABOUT MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ATLANTA PEOPLE.

The Woman's Industrial Union Select Miss Bellamy to Take Charge of the School-News and Notes About People You Know The ladies of the Woman's Industrial union had a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the school on Ivy street. They accepted with great reluctance and sincere regret the resignation of Mrs. Mazzanovich and insalted Miss Bellamy in her place. Mrs. Mazzonovich, in charge of the school, has given universal satisfaction, and the school under her pertect discipline and teaching has steadily improved and progressed. She leaves the work in the most flourishing and pleasing condition.

Under Miss Bellamy the ladies are assured that the school will be carried on with the same system and thorough teaching. She is a great favorite with children and has received thorough training for the work under Mrs. Mazzonovich.

One of the newest and most beautiful things in the way of artistic lamp shades is now to be seen tist well known in Atlanta, who is now living in New York, This young lady's artistic talent has received the highest cultivation from the most cele brated masters. Thes ornamental lamp shades are in the form of large butterfiles, and are painted, each one differently, on tissue paper, so that the ef-fect is wonderfully delicate and true to nature. As soon as they were put on exhibition yesterday after-noon, a crowd of ladies were attracted to Stevens' window by their novelty and beauty, and they will prove a refreshing digression from the rose colored-tissue paper shades so long in vogue. There is an interesting little history connected with their first appearance in America, which was during the past summer, Miss Adelaide Robinson, a belle of New York, who is well known as a champion tennis player, saw the shades in Paris the summer before, and, upon her return, she made a number and put them for sale in some of the New York stores. They sold so rapidly that she continued her work, and by the autumn the money she made from them was enough to give her another trip abroad. Who says that women cannot be self-supporting? Why, she takes a butter-fly, the emblem of hes own frivolity, and earns a liv

The grand concert to be given Wednesday evening a the Gate City Guard armory, under the auspice of M . No better place could be chosen for such an entertainment, as the acoustic qualities are fine, and the hall can be brilliantly quanties are nos, and the hair can be brittantly illuminated and adorned to advantage. The King's Daughters, for whose hospital the concert is given, will spare no pains to help in making the scene artistically attractive, and the performers them selves are chosen from the best and most highly cultivated talent in the city.

Upon next Friday evening there will be given, at Trinity church, by the Young People's Christian league, a most delightful concert. The programme arranged for the occasion contains the names of a number of the most noted and distin-guished musicians in Atlanta and all who attend will pass an evening of rare enjoyment.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., November 11.-[Special.]—Milledgeville has a new musical club that bids fair to eclipse any other organization of the kind yet established in Georgia. The club is known as the "Nightingale Quintette club," and is organized for serenading purposes only. It is composed of five of the most prominent gentlemen in the city, who have thrown themselves back about a quarter of a century and are determined to have what fun they failed to have in youth. The bass voice of the organization belongs to Captain Jake Caraker, who was called the speaking trumpet of the Fourth Geor gia regiment on account of his excessive lung power. To balance this seismic roar, the alto, suprano, tenor, etc., are given to Captain T. F. Newell, Dr. George D. Case and Messrs, Adolph Joseph and Solomon Barrett. The club is strictly temperate, so the denizen fortunate enough to catch the accents of "Auld Lang Lyne," and other favorite tunes, is spared the trouble and expense of "setting 'em up."

WASHINGTON, November 11.—Official re-turns of November to the department of agriculture turns of November to the department of agriculture relate to yield per acre and quality. They make the rate of production of corn a full average, slightly above 26% bushels per acre, and the quality medium relatively low on the Atlantic coast from New York southward, and high west of Mississippi. The returns of po atoes make the average yield 76 bushels per acre. The general average for tobacco of all kinds is 645 pounds per acre. The best corn is in the Missouri valley, as well as the highest yields. Seturating rains of the coast racion with humfle. in the Missouri valley, as well as the highest yields. Saturating rains or the coast region, with insufficient sunshine, have left the corn soft and chaffy. The crop in the highlands, especially if well cultivated, is of better quality. The reduction of quality, over large eistricts, will induce rapid consumption and limit the stocks reserved for spring use. In the region of commercial corn the quality is generally good. The Irish potate crop is poor in yield and quality, in the eastern and middle states. Western states report better results. Rocky mountain yields are less than was expected, and the quality scarcely medium in a large portion of the breadth. The New York crop is estimated at only fifty-six bushels per acre. Michigan average is seventy-six bushels per acre.

The coroner's inquest at Paoli yesterday, rendered a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties. This is near Paoli, where there has been trouble since the negroes wrote an anonymous letter to Mr. Murray David, threatening to kill him. All the men were colored that were shot. The negroes were said to be very mean, and it is alleged that negroes did the killing, and that the affair was the result of a negro riot among themselves, but many think whites did the killing. The whites will quiet the troubles without bloodshed if possible. If not, then they are fully able to take care of themselves.

OKEFENOKEE SWAMP

LUMBER, SASH, DOORS, ETC,

SALESMAN—Yes, this is the stove you inquired for. As you say, it does not look exactly like the one your mother recommended you to buy, and which she thinks so much of, but it is a Charter Gak Range. We have the Cook Stoves of the same make but the Ranges are used more generally now, as they are more convenient. How long has your mother had her stove? Young Married Lady—Oh! ever so long. She bought it when I was a baby, and has been using it ever since, and she told me I must get the same kind.

SALESMAN—Well, this is the same kind. That is, it is a Charter Oak, but you must remember that twenty years is a long time, and improvements have been made since your mother got hers. This Range has the wonderful Wire Gause Oven Boor, which you have probably heard of, as it is known and sold everywhere in connection with our Stoves and Ranges.

Young Married Lady—Oh! I remember now. She spoke about that, but I can't understard. Salesman—There is no doubt about its being much better; it is a wonderful improvement. It bakes everything so much better than our old stove, as that was as good as it could be. It bakes everything so much nicer, and the meats are not dried up like they are in the old fire, and the natural juices of the meat, which make it so appetizing, will all be retained. It is qualities, as your mother's advice has made that unnecessary.

Young Married Lady—Well, of course it is needless for me to speak of its other good you can, as we have no stove yet. We are just commencing housekeeping, you know.

THE ALLIANCE WEDDINGS.

It is claimed that the idea of having marriages celebrated in cotton bagging dethes originated with the directors of this fair, and, although there have already been several such weddings, the Northeast Georgia fair will still have three of them. Two of the couples come from Banks county, and one from Oglethorpe.

There was a propesition to have a marriage on the grounds in jute bagging, but it was rejected unanimously, as the directors were unwilling to profane the marriage relations by such a proceeding.

It will not be a fair of exhibitions as much as it will be of mirth and merrinent. Sports of all kinds will be had, such as baseball, drilling, wild west show, dancing, and a general jollification and thanksgiving for ayear of plenty.

A GREAT BALL.

The Clarke Rifles, our crack military company, will give an elegant ball at the fair grounds on Tuesday night, and to it quite a large number will be invited. It will be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season.

Athens is determined to build up and her fair is a starter in that direction. Her citizens are thoroughly enthused over the prospects of the city.

DODGE COUNTY'S FAIR.

A Magnificent Display of Local Resources Made.

EASTMAN, Ga., November 11 .- [Special.]-The week just ended closes the second annual fair of Dodge county. The first fair, which was held last year, was merely an experiment; but it had the effect of showing what could be done in this county, and encouraged and stimulated production and improved methods. Since that time, suitable fair grounds have been procured, buildings erected, a fair assoon organized, and the Dodge county fair is now a permanent thing.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The fair just closed was a success in every particular, but the one to be held next year will be a greater success.

All things considered, the exhibits would have dearly as the considered of the deserved it as the deserved.

The sugar cane, sweet potatoes and cotton, sats, rye, wheat, barley, and turnips were about as fine as could be made, and other agricultural products were excellent. The ap-ples, pears, grapes, figs and other fruits were as good as any county can boast of. The poultry exhibited was something to be

THE IMPROVEMENT OF LIVE STOCK. The improvement of Live Stock.

There is one thing, however, to which the people of this county need to devote more attention, and that is improvement of their live stock, for while the horses, cattle and hogs made a very creditable exhibit, still there is erable room for improvement in this department.

But when it comes to the exhibits made by the ladies, too much cannot be said. With-out them the fair could never have been such a success as it was. The jellies, wines, canned fruits and vegetables, pre-serves, pickles, cakes, breads, fancy needle work, crayon portraits, china and oil paintings, art work, flowers and household products were segood as could be found anywhere.
In fact, the exhibits in all departments were too good to further particularize.
For all of which much praise is due to Dr.
H. Fisher, the worthy president of the Dodge

County Fair association, and to those who aided him.

SENATOR DUBIGNON'S OFFER.

He Will Enter the Law Firm of Chisholm & Erwin.

Savannah, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]—Senator duBignon has had an exceptionally advantageous professional offer, and has de cided to take it. He is not in the city today, but that offer is understood to be one to join the law firm of Chisholm & Erwin, general counsel for the Savannah, Florida and Western. Mr. duBignon's partnership with Solicitor-General Frazer expired October 1st.

Some of Savannah's gnesis arrived this svening. They will receive a cordial welcome. The Pulaski, where Governor Gordon is expected to stop if he comes, is magnificently pected to stop if he comes, is magnificently decorated with flags of all nations. A telegram was sent today urging the governor to visit Savannah Wednesday, if detained Tuesday.

DECATUR, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]— Will Bearden, a white man well known around Decatur and Stone Mountain. was arrested Saturday by Sheriff Austin and put in the De-Saltrounty jail. Bearden, it seems, had decided to go in the scalper's business, and with this view he slipped in the depot and stole a few railroad tickets which he tried to sell, but the stole had not been stamped by the agent, he couldn't sell them. The railroad agent hearing of it, sent for Sheriff Austin, and they laid a trap for Bearden which he easily walked into, and sheriff Austin, who was on hand caught him in the act of stamping the tickets which he in the act of stamping the tickets which he had praviously stolen.

THE NEWS FROM MACON. The Dummy Line in Court-The Through

Schedule on the Georgia Southern.

Macon, November 11.—[Special.]—The dummy line case which was adjourned from Saturday afternoon, was taken up again today by Judge Gustin in Bibb superior court. This is the case of the creditors vs. the company, in which they ask for the appointment of a permanent receiver and the sale of the road. On Saturday afternoon Attorney Claud Estes, of Macon, and Mr. C. C. Hickok, ot

Macon, and Mr. C. C. Hickok, of Macon, and Mr. C. C. Hickok, of New York, who claim to be representing a northern capitalist, paid to Judge Matt Freeman and Mr. Robert Hodges, attorneys for certain laborers who had liens, $1,255.41. Mr. Estes also either settled or arranged for settlement $5,000 of other claims. One thousand dollars in claims were disputed as not being volid claims against the road. The total indebtedness of the road in Macon, as outlined alone, is about $8,000. The balance of the claims outside of Macon are held by parties friendly to the road, and who will not give trouble. Judge Freeman has made affidavit to the effect that the $1,255 paid Saturday afternoon in settlement of the laborers' liens was borrowed money, and while it is true the title to the money is in the dummy line company, the fact remains that the amount was borrowed, and the affidavit will be used to assist in establishing the insolvency of the dummy, as the adult is alleged still to precioully as the amulayit will be used to assist in establishing the insolvency of the dummy, as the debt is alleged still to practically exist against the road. The point on which the hearing commenced this morning was the validity of the claims that were contested Saturday in the state of urday afternoon. After argument by attorneys Judge Gustin took the matter under advisement. Argument then commenced on the question of receiver and insolvency of the road, and was continued until a late hour this even-and was continued until a late hour this evening.

The through schedule on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad that was expected to be put into operation on yesterday from Macon to Lake City did not go into effect on account of the non-completion of the bridge over the Suwanee river by the Atlanta Bridge and Axle company, which has encountered one or two mishaps. It is thought that the bridge will be finished this week, and trains may run to Lake City by next Sunday. The road will, no doubt, do a large through business.

Jailer Nat Birdsong has returned from the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, where he has been to carry two United States prisoners. Jailer Birdsong says he had a splendid trip. He was in Cincinnati Ssturday night, and saw the great jubilee and ratification over the democratic victories in last Tuesday's elections.

Sheriff Westcott has received a telegram from Sheriff Scott, of Grimes county, Texas, stating that he reached home safely with his prisoner, Dr. Fulgham, of Pulaski county, an account of whose arrest was given a few days ago in The Constitution. The ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive

The ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen that was set for the 20th instant has been unavoidably posponed until a later date. The "She" company gave a good performance tonight to a large audience. Subscriptions to the capital stock of the Ammon's cotton chopper continue to roll in. Capitalists recognize the merits of the implement and do not hositate to take stock. In last week's Werkly Constitution a descriptive article of the cotton chopper was published. Within a week Mr. Ammons has received nearly one hundred and forty letters of inquiry from readers of and forty letters of inquiry from readers of THE CONSTITUTION in all parts of the south. THE CONSTITUTION in all parts of the south. Some wish to buy choppers, some wish to purchase state and county rights, some wish to obtain agencies. Mr. Ammons says The Weekly Constitution gives a man all the advertisement he desires. He has received letters from all parts of Georgia, and from Tennessee, Virginia, the Carolinas, Alabama, Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas, and every writer states that he read about the chopper in The Weekly Constitution. So much then for the work of The Weekly Constitution.

Weekly Constitution.

Today Judge Gustin issued an order for the removal of a negro named Willie Smith from the Bibb county jail to the county hospital. He is ill with pneumonia and was liable to die if he remained in jail.

The grand jury adjourned today until Monday, November 25th. The jury has had but little work before it, and contrary to expectation has created no excitement on the gambling question. WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

The fair just closed was a success in every particular, but the one to be held next year will be a greater success.

All things considered, the exhibits would have done credit to some of the oldest and best counties in Georgia. There was an exhibit of corn that could hardly be surpassed in the state, being a yield of sixty-five bushess per acre.

The fancy wood work in Georgia pine would have been a valuable addition to the state fair, or Piedmont exposition.

There were stalks of okra which were enormous in size and height.

The sugar cane, sweet potatoes and cotton, asts, rye, wheat, barley, and turnips were about as fine as could be made, and other

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING. The People of Augusta Determined to Have an Exposition Next Year.

When Aufor the object for which it was founded and holding an exposition next year. When Augusta does get waked up, it is as wide awake as any place in the world. The enthusiasm with which the people went into the exposition last fall will be duplicated and increased for next year's show. The meeting tonight recommended that the Augusta National Exposition company sell to a new company, to be known as the Augusta Exposition company and that the new company issue $60,000 in bonds of five dollars face value. These bonds are payable in ten years, and have coupons for thirty-five cents, or seven per cent, payable annually. These coupons to be good for admission to the annual exposition, thus making the bondholder pay his own interest, each purchaser of a bond to receive a share of stock of the face value of five dollars. The meeting was enthusiastic, and $11,000 was subscribed by personal subscriptions in the audiof the face value or the difference of the face value or the scribed by personal subscriptions in the audience. The canvass that will be made of the city will easily raise the necessary $60,000 to purchase the property, and relieve it of all incumbrance. Augusta will have a gala week, and military encampment during the spring and a grand exposition next fall.

CHESTER IS IN TROUBLE.

A White Man Held Up for Insulting Ladles on the Streets.

A white man by the name of Harry Chester was arrested this morning by Officers Layfield and Terry on the charge of stopping several citizens on the streets and demanding money citizens on the streets and demanding money from them. During the past week a number of ladies and gentlemen have been molested both late at night and early in the morning, and the police, obtaining the description of a man, have been keeping a close watchout for him. Chester answers the description in every particular, and he himself confesses having stopped a lady on Saturday morning last and demanded a quarter from her. At the time of his arrest he was concealed under Mr. W. S. Needham's house on Second avenue.

Election of Officers.

SAVANNAH, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]—The cotton exchange's annual election today resulted as follows: President, J. P. Overton; vice-president, J. K. Garnett; nine-directors: James M. Bsrnard, Jr., J. F. Minis, John H. Hunter, H. Weber, C. A. Shearson, D. I. MacIntyre, W. G. Carr, C. A. Reitze, E. Fabius; three inspectors of next election: John Dicke, H. M. Hutten, W. W. Williamson. Mr. Overton, the exchange's president, has been in husiness here for several years, and is a leading man on the Bay, being a member of the firm of Duckworth, Turner & Co., one of the largest cotton exporting heres in the world. The firm has branches in New Orleans and Liverpool. Mr. Garnett is of the firm of Garnett, Stubbs & Co., which house has come rapidly to the front as cotton factors. Ho is a director of the Central Railroad and Banking company, and there is no more prominent cotton factor on the coast than the new vice-president. Election of Officers.

AN ATTEMPT TO INTERVIEW THE NOTED CRIMINAL.

He Refuses to Talk of His Past Career, and Says He is Being Held in the Hope of Finding Out Something About Him.

GRIFFIN, Ga., November 11 .- [Special.]-Your reporter visited Bob Redding at his apartment in the "Hotel de Fleyd" for the purpose of getting an interview, but had rather poor success. Bob is very guarded in what he says, as well as what he does. To no question asked him did he give a direct answer, except that he was innocent of any crime, save gambling.

When asked if he had seen what THE CON-STITUTION said of him, he replied that he had seen one article, but no amount of persuasion could induce him to express his opinion of it. His only reply was, "Men often make their troubles worse by talking, but I'll not do it. I do not blame you for trying to get some expression from me, but I must decline to give it."

THE WHEREABOUTS OF WILEY. "Where is your brother Wiley?"

"Now, you know there is a reward out for Wiley, and he being my brother, I will not answer your question, neither will I say whether or not he is alive."

"When were you last in New Orleans?" "That requires more talk. When the time comes I will show by responsible men where I have been and what doing of late. My object in visiting this section was to buy a piece of land. This I can prove by the white people whom I visited and looked at their lands."

"Did you try to conceal your identity in this locality?"

"No, sir; I associated with people who have known me all my life, and when arrested at the depot I was open in my actions. Of course, I could have evaded arrest if I had suspicioned that I was to be arrested, by remaining in the dark and boarding the train without a ticket, but being unconscienced. dark and boarding the train without a ticket, but being unconscious of the fact that I was wanted, I marched boddly up to the ticket office, passing between the officers who afterwards made the arrest. My innocence was the only excuse for this openness. The only reason I am held is in hope of FINDING OUT SOME CRIME
I have committed, and for which a reward is offered for my capture."

I have committed, and for which a reward is offered for my capture."

Finding it useless to try to induce him to divulge any of his secrets, I began talking with him of other matters in a general way, hoping he might forget and drop some cle wof his passed career, but never a word did he utter by which anything of importance could be even inferred. In appearance he is about forty-years old, though he says he is fifty-eight, raw-boned, with high cheek bones, resembling an Indian more than he does the African, with a countenance as hard as is possible to imagine. His eyes are indescribable, for the reason that he never looks you in the face. Not the whole time I was talking to him did I see his eyes.

BURGLARY IN ALBANY. A Residence Entered and Valuable Property Stolen.

ALBANY, Ga., November 11-[Special.]-

Last night burglars entered the residence of Mr. J. R. Forrester through the parlor window. They ransacked the house, carrying off several hundred dollars worth of diamonds and jewelry belonging to Mrs. Forrester, and a quantity of clothing from the rooms occupied by Mr. R. S. Patillo and Mr. W. W. Turner. by Mr. R. S. Patillo and Mr. W. W. Turner. They attempted to enter the residence of Dr. P. L. Hilsman but were frightened away by his little son. About eight o'clock this morning a man wearing a long black coat was seen getting over Dr. Hilsman's fence, and the fact was reported to Sheriff Edwards, who, accompanied by Officer J. W. Kemp, started in pursuit of him. They traced him across the river when he disappeared in the woods. Some time after they found that he had recrossed the bridge into town. In the meantime Marshal Westbrook, after and exciting pursuit, had captured and jailed one of his confederates. Sherfff Edwards was still in het pursuit, and at last found his man among the freight Sherfif Edwards was still in hot pursuit, and at last found his man among the freight cars of the Savannah, Florida and Western railway. Milton Wilson, colored, saw the burglar, who was sitting between the fong rows of cars whittling out a fan from a piece of white pine. He asked when a freight train would leave, and the negro told him one would pull out in a few munutes, and advised him to enter a box car. He did so, when Milton, leaving a friend to watch him, hastened after the sheriff, who captured him in his snug retreat. Upon being searched a diamond ring, diamond bracelets, necklace and other valuable jewelry was found upon his person. They were identified as the stolen property of Mrs. Forrester. Under his pants he was wearing the Sunday trousers of Mrs. Forester. Under his pants he was wearing the Sunday trousers of Mr. Patillo, and upon his head was Editor Turner's stylish derby, He was jailed. There has been great excitement here over the robbery and the arrests. Another suspicious character, supposed to be an accom-plice of the two others, was nabbed this afternoon, but there being no evidence against them, they were released. The town has been full of suspicious-looking characters for the last two days. Several were seen hiding out last night in the woods below the city cemelast night in the woods below the city cemetery.

Last Saturday night a tramp was jailed by Officer James. He was recognized by the burglars arrested today, and it is thought he was an advance spy for the gang at present surrounding the city. They are supposed to be the same gang who blew open the express company's safe at Cuthbert Friday night. The authorities were notified to look out for them, as they were coming in this direction. having left Cuthbert going in a easterly direction. They attempted to enter the windows of Marshal Westbrook Saturday night, but were frightened away.

SHOT THROUGH THE RIBS.

Solomon Bradley Badly Wounded by An other Negro. Sandersville, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]—A negro named Solomon Bradley came into town late Saturday night with a bullet in his shoulder. In the early part of the night, on the Wilkerson place, two miles out, two negroes, Rufus Bellamy and Abe Martin, became involved in a quarrel concerning a woman, in which Martin seemed disposed to be insolent and overbearing. Bradley interfered and begged them to desist especially reminding Martin of his relationship to Bellamy. Martin turned then on Bradley, and began cursing him, Bradley said that they, too, were cousins, and that he did not want a difficulty. Martin thereupon drew his pistol, and cursing the kinship of both, fired upon Bradley twice. The first shot took effect in the left arm at the shoulder, and ranged inward, lodging somewhere near the ribs. Dr. A. J. Irwin, who attended him, reports the wound painful, though not necessarily serious, and thought it would be better to allow it to remain than to cut it out. THE LIGHTS TURNED ON. Marietta Under the Full Glow of Electricity

-A Banquet at the Elmwood.

MARIETTA, Ga., November 10.—[Special.]-Last night the electric lights were turned on here for the first time. The plant is one of the finest in the south, and the people are more than pleased with the brilliancy and power of the light, and are cele-brating the event with fireworks, brass bands, etc. These lights are but one of the many facts that go toward proving Marietta one of the most progressive little cities of the new south. At 9 o'clock the city council, members of the electric light company and a number of prominent citizens were invited to the dining rooms of the Elimwoon hotel to partake of a banquet given by Messrs. Glover, Dobba, Holland, Austin and Schoenthal. After the banquet was over and the wine began to circulate, speech making was induiged in, the following gentlemen making short talks: Judge Gober, Messrs. Foster, Legg, Power, Holland, Erown. Neal, Maxwell, Boone, Winners, and Mayor Glover. All paid high tributes to the energy and pluck displayed by Mayor Glover and Alderman Dobbs in obtaining the lights for Marietta. sive little cities of the new south. At 9 o'clock th

Muscogee Superior Court in Session.

Columbus, Ga., November 11.—[Special.]—
The fall term of Muscogee superior court convened this morning. On the opening of the court it was announced that all court business would be continued until the second Monday in January next, in accordance with the petition from a number of lawyers to that effect.
The grand jury was then organized with Captain A. J. Nix as foreman.

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION 82 A YEAR. SENT TO ANY ADDRESS.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 12, 1889. The Constitution and Its News.

Our friends round about are making good deal of fuss about THE CONSTITU rion's interview with Rube Burrow.

THE CONSTITUTION has no time to fool with news that is past. Its face is turned to the future. Mr. Barrett did get the interview with Rube Burrow, as can be abundantly proved. The Age-Herald's story was fabrication and intended as a joke, as admitted by its editor-in-chief and its managing editor. Mr. Barrett has served THE CONSTITUTION for several years and has had such experiences often. He was the first man to print the story of Mr. Blackburn pulling Chandler's ear. It was promptly denied, and about promptly proven to be exactly true. Men who get news expect criticism.

It is even complained that THE CONSTI-TUTION was uneasy about Mr. Barrett when it should not have been. The exact facts are these: Mr. Barrett was ordered on Sunday morning to go to Alabama and find Rube Burrow, and was not heard of by the writer from that time until the Age-Herald of Birmingham reached us, stating that there was uneasiness regarding him in Sulligent and it was thought there that he had been attacked by Jim Cash, the brother-inlaw of Rube Burrow, who was very mad about his article in THE CONSTITUTION. We printed this story from the Age-Herald and stated that we had heard nothing from Mr. Barrett, but felt sure that he would come out all right, as he was level-headed We telegraphed to the and courageous. marshal at Sulligent and he replied the following day, Saturday, that Mr. Barrett had turned up late that night and left for Atlanta, Mr. Barrett was not near a telegraph station from Wednesday morning until Friday morning and could not communicate with us.

It remains to be seen what justice the papers that have attacked this earnest and conscientious journalist, will render him,

Knights of Labor.

To the Kuights of Labor who are to assemble in Atlanta today, Atlanta and The Constitution extend a hearty welcome. They had a royal welcome at Richmond when they assembled in that city, but they will find, as they get nearer the heart of the south, that the hospitality of the people is warmer, broader and deeper.

The Knights of Labor form a representa-" tive body of workingmen who have banded themselves together on the theory that in unity there is strength, and that in the cooperation of individuals is to be found at least a partial solution of some of the problems with which the laboring men have to deal. At the head of this body of workingmen is Mr. Powderly, whose just and conservative administration of the large powers placed in his hands has won the admiration and respect of the whole coun-

As to the purposes of the Knights of Labor, it may be said that they are merely following one of the impulses of this progressive age and time. Some of the greatest minds of the day are impressed with the belief that the problems that are pressing on the people can be best solved when each class proceeds to discuss and adjust them for itself.

Atlanta is glad to have the knights within her walls, so to speak, and she extends to them the welcome that might be expected from a vigorous and progressive city that is peopled with workingmen.

The Virginia Victory.

The Burlington Hawkeye, which is not as estimable a contemporary as when it was conducted by Frank Hatton and Bob Burdette, has somewhat to say about the defeat of Mahone in the old dominion. It remarks, in its perfunctory and platitudinous style, that "Virginia has gone democratic by the usual disreputable methods. All over the state these disreputable proceedings kept republicans from exercising their right of suffrage, and it is not surprising that the state went democratic by a majority ranging somewhere from 20,000 to 40,000. It might as well been 75,000 or 100,000; it would have been no greater fraud and outrage."

It is interesting to compare this statement from the pen of a republican sectionalist with another statement on the same subject made by the editor of the leading republican paper of Virginia. The editor of the Valley Virginian, who is on the spot, has this to say:

The result of the election was not surprising to us.
We had carefully gone over the field in the light of a very extensive and reliable correspondence from every portion of the state. Our summing up several weeks before the election, was that Mahone would be defeated by at least 30,000. In the valley and southwest counties, where the white vote largely predominates we were very confident that the predominates, we were very confident that the sentiment of a large portion of the republicar voters was adverse to Mahone, and that the ballo would show it. The victory that has box would show it. The victory that has been achieved over Mahone cannot in fairness be claimed as a partisan democratic victory. It is the result of a deep conviction on the part of the people, irrespective of political identification that General Mahone was not the man to be placed in the gubernatorial chair of this great commonwealth. His methods are not the proper methods to be recognized as paramount in this state, and the best interests of Virginia demanded his defeat.

As a matter of fact, the more intelligent negroes joined the better class of republican whites in opposing Mahone, and in this they have shown beyond question that they are beginning to understand and appreciate their responsibility as citizens. When any large number of negroes in the south take position that those Virginia negroes have taken, the negro problem will vanish like the mists of the morning before the

"It is the common impression," says the Valley Virginian, "that the colored voters of Virginia have a ring in their noses and led by party bosses as sheep to the ghter. The election on Tuesday dispelled this delusion. They demonstrated that they are citizens of the state, who feel an interest in the welfare of the common wealth, and that they have the courage to break away from party association when the commonwealth is in peril. All over the state such characters are found, and it is to their grit and moral courage that much of the credit is due for the overwhelming defeat of Mahone. They deserve the thanks of all good citizens for the part they took in ffecting the result."

They deserve not only the thanks, but the ratitude of the people who were making an effort to save the state from the rule of an unscrupulous demagogue.

Major Stahlman, of the L. and N. Major E. B. Stahlman, vice-president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, left the city on Saturday on his return to his home in Nashville.

Major Stahlman spent several weeks in Atlanta during the session of the general assembly, looking after the interests of the Louisville and Nashville in the State road ease, that road owning a majority of the lease shares. Major Stahlman, during his stay here, made many friends in the city and among the members of the legislature, and his argument before the legislative committee has been highly complimented by all who heard it or have read it. It presented the question of the legality of the claim of the lessees in a very strong light, and is consid-

But a large part of our people think the legislature made a mistake in net making a settlement of this claim. Whatever is the result one thing is certain, Major Stahlman left the question in a much better shape than he found it, and he did so without the influence of a lobby or by using undue or improper influence from without or within the legislature. He was the accredited official to represent one of the strongest cor. porations in the south in this claim before the legislature, and no one could have managed it with more care or ability than did he. Major Stahlman took occasion to say to the committee when discussing this claim that to leave it unsettled would certainly result in a failure to lease the road. For this statement it was charged by some that he was attempting to buildoze the legislature. From our acquaintance with Major Stahlman we are satisfied that he believed just what he stated. He is a man of excellent judgment and great candor, and the fear is that his statement will prove more truthful than it was threatening.

We regret to part with Major Stahlman. and we regret more on account of the state's interest that there is but little prospect that the well managed and liberal poration which he represented here will not participate in the bidding for the new lease

The Cotton Movement.

The New York Financial Chronicle says that the gross overland movement in October has been only 145,744 bales against 201, 925 bales for the corresponding period year ago and 205,214 bales in 1887. The decline in each instance is, therefore, quite heavy. For the season to date the loss for last year is 51,100 bales, and contrasted with two years ago reaches 86,029 bales. The movement via Hannibal and Cincinnati is in excess of 1888, but all the other routes exhibit decreases, especially via St. Louis and Louisville. The net for the month bears about the same relation to that for 1888 and 1887, as does the gross, reaching 101,290 bales, against 153,373 bales and 165,493 respectively in the earlier two years. The aggregate for the two months exhibits a falling off compared with either last year

The receipts at the shipping ports have been on a more liberal scale in October than in the like month of either 1888 or 1887, the total being 1,325,358 bales, against 1,133,016 bales last year and 1,213,404 bales two years previous. All the important ports except Charleston and Norfolk have handled a great amount of the cotton, but Galveston and New Orleans show the heaviest augmentation. The gain compared with last year in the aggregate for the two months is consequently large, and the loss for 1887 recorded at the end of September has been turned into a small increase. Foreign exports have been exceedingly free. reaching for the month 858,055 bales-a total far surpassing the shipments during any like period on record. In 1888 the exports were 588,146 bales, and in 1887 were 791,202. For the season to November 1 the excess over last year is 397,656 bales, and contrasted with 1887 is 116,217 bales. Stocks are a little less than at the corresponding date in 1888.

The amount of cotton marketed since September 1, 1889 is 376,920 bales more than in 1888, and 63,717 bales less than in 1887. The movement up to November 1 of the present year is 340,920 bales more than in 1888 and 154,717 bales less than in 1887. Northern spinners had, up to November 1. taken 309,240 bales, a decrease from the corresponding period of 1888 of 125,177 bales, and a decrease from the same time in 1887 of 133,973 bales. The Chronicle, in its weekly review, says that for the week ending last Friday the total receipts have reached 300,135 bales. against 308,215 bales last week and 320,587 bales the previous week; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1889, 2,225,211 bales, against 1,829,740 bales for the same period of 1888, showing an increase since September 1, 1889, of 395,471

The exports for the week reach a total of 115,368 bales, of which 78,274 were to Great Britain, 10,338 to France, and 26,756 to the rest of the continent. The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 604,100 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up 3,542 bales, including 1,153 for export, and 2,389 for consump-

The imports into continental ports have been 47,000 bales. There is an increase in the cotton in sight tonight of 415,556 bales. as compared with the same date of 1888, a decrease of 268,848 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1887, and an increase of 24,932 bales as compared with 1886.

The old interior stocks have increased during the week 31,429 bales, and are 37,176 bales less than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 10,624 bales more than the same week last year, and since September 1st the receipts at all the towns are 107,816 bales more than for the same time in 1888.

The total receipts from the plantations since September 1st, 1889, are 2,426,751 bales; in 1888 were 2,057,504 bales; in 1887 were 2,663,537 bales. Although the receipts at the outports the past week were 300,185 bales, the actual movement from plantations was 335,613 bales, the balance going to increase the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 293,328 bales and for 1887 they were 346,661 bales.

The increase in amount in sight as com pared with last year, is 324,132 bales, the decrease as compared with 1887 is 319,391 pales and the increase over 1886 is 260,362

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

CARDINAL GIBBONS'S new book, 'Our Christian Heritage," will be widely read in Protestant as well as Catholic circles. It has nothing to say against any denomination. It is a pica for pure homes, contented industry, sobriety, economy, law and order, a better educational system and an un-corrupted ballot. "Above all," says the cardinal "let religion be the queen of your household." This is the key note of this remarkable and eloquent book. The cardinal deals with religiou heart the good of all.

SAMUEL J. RANDALL'S CONDITION. Fears that He Will Not be Able to Take an Active Part in Legislation.

PHILADELHIA, November 11.—The Washing ton correspondent of the Inquirer telegraphs his paper the following regarding Samuel J. Randail's ndition:

"The friends of Mr. Randall are becoming very apprehensive in regard to his condition. His phy sicians are very reticent concerning his prospects, but admit that he is not progressing as rapidly as they would wish. Notwithstanding the repeated ecounts of his improvement, he is still unable to leave his bed, and it is now considered very doubt-ful whether he will be present at the assembling of the house three weeks hence.

"He sits up supported by pillows during the day, occupying himself in dictating and reading. Mrs. Randall never leaves his bedside. An intimate lady friend calling upon Mrs. Randall yesterday, failed to see her, as she would not leave her husbane even for a moment. This gave rise to a story today [Friday], that Mr. Randall had suffered a relapse and his condition was precarious. This, however, was subsequently denied. His friends had been placing great reliance upon his leadership in the house, but they are very fearful that he will not be in sufficient strength to take an active part in the occedings even if he should be in his seat."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Many Like This. EDITORS CONSTITUTION: The Atlanta citizens are according you-enthusiastic gratitude and unstinted praise for your today's edigratitude and unstinted praise for your today's editorial condemning the gas company of this city. You hit the nail on the head with a trip-hammer blow. I thank you from the bottom of my heart, Why, I sit b:tween two gas jets at my home on Jackson street, trying to see how to read. In a few minutes my eyes grow watery and letters are blured and I have to stop my work because the gas company refuses to give us enough light. It is a shaule without a miligating feature. Thousands of children in the public and private schools have to strain their eyes under the abominable light. Last year agents of the company promised us good light by last January, but Messrs. Editors, another year has passed and we are no better off. The people are thankful for your stand; let us have competition in the manufacture of gas, the sooner the better. I am thankful to you and indignant against the gas trust.

A Complaint.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Is it not possible EDITIORS CONSTITUTION: Is it not possible for the general council to pass an ordinance by which gas and other companies who dig in the streets shall be compelled to lay their mains before such permanent street improvements as laying blocks or macadamizing is done? If yes, then why don't they do it and thus save the city thousands of dollars? Look at the manner in which Wheat and Pryor streets have been torn up almost continually in the last year. Another case in point: The contractors are now grading and will soon macadamize the Boulevard. The gas company has no main on the street. The work will hardly be paid for until the street will be torn up and damaged.

Please publish the above and stir them up a little anyhow. Respectfully.

Despite the fact that the city was full of strangers for several weeks. There were very few robberies, and the citizens and visitors were well protected, both at the exposition grounds and in the city even.

The report was indorsed and ordered filed. The commission authorized Chief Connolly to purchase a "rogue's gallery" for the department, which will add much to the efficiency of the police in the detection of criminals.

In the city court Mrs. Estes. for herself and husband, was given a verdict for $7,000 against the East Tennesse. Virginia and Georgia Railroad company. The case has been on trial since the first of last week, and has been invested with a great deal of interest on account of the circumstances under which the accident from which Mrs. Estes received her injuries occurred.

occurred.

Mrs. Estes was a passenger on an East Tennessee train, and in alighting therefrom with the assistance of one of the trainmen, while the train was in motion, received a shock which resulted in producing concussion of the spine.

The defense was based upon the allegation that Mrs. Estes's disability was feigned to a great extent, and that it was really due to wounds inflicted by a cow. The suit was for $15,000. Judge Van Epps's charge in the case was very able and impar-tial, touching both sides in every point

The declaration alleges that Markem was permanently injured by being struck by a train through the negligence of the railroad company. Mrs. Anna Markem, the wife of S. W. Markem, also sues for $15,000, for injuries sustained in the same accident.

Suit was filed against the central railway and banking company for $10,000 by Calvin S. Claredy. The petition set forth that the plaintiff, who was a regular passenger on one of the company's trains, was permanently and seriously injured in a collision near East Point, by being thrown violently against a stove. It is stated that the plaintiff is a physician, that he was earning $1,500 a year at the time of the catastrophe, and that his injuries will prevent him from and that his injuries will prevent him from following his profession in the future.

TWO WARD, MEETINGS.

THE SECOND AND FIFTH WARDS HAVE MASS MEETINGS.

Large Crowd Gathers at the Court House and Mr. Hurtel for Councilman, Two large and enthusiastic mass meetings vere held in Atlanta last night. One at the county court house in the second ward, the other in a vacant store on Marletta street in the fifth ward.

Both meetings produced candiates. The citizens present at both conventions were among the best, most influential and leading citizens of the wards, and the work was careful, deliberate and comblete.

IN THE SECOND. Mr. Moran Unanimously Chosen for Alderman-Mr. Hurtel for Council. The second ward meeting in the basement of the court house was attended by three hundred or more of the most desirable and wealthy ens of the territory, and throughout the meeting the best humor prevailed.

Mr. John Carrigan called the meeting to order at eight o'clock and asking for a nomination for permanent chairman and remained standing until Colonel Wm. Ellis arose say-

I nominate for chairman Captain T. P. Harrison."
Everybody in the court room began yelling for Harrison.

Captain Harrison went upon the stand and after removing his overcoat slowly, said:

"Now for your secretary."
Mr. Frank Myers quickly nominated Mr.
James A. Gray, who was elected without op-"Now, please," said Chairman Harrison,

"Now, please, said Chairman Harrison, state the object of this meeting."

MR. CORRIGAN TALKS.

Again Mr. Corrigan came up smiling:
"This meeting is the outgrowth of meetings recently held in other wards," said Mr. Corrigan. "In those wards, in one anyhow, there has been a nomination for council. Now, in order to test the sense of this meeting, and for order to test the sense of this meeting, and for that purpose only, I offer the following:"
Resolved, That tais meeting proceed to indorse a councilman, as the choice of the second ward, for election at the coming municipal election, and that we also voice our choice for an adderman to represent the south side of the city,

MR. GOODWIN'S RESOLUTION. "I think that action premature," remarked Hen. John B. Goodwin, city attorney. "Many residents of the ward are laboring under a misresidents of the ward are laboring under a mis-appreliension about this meeting and would have been here if they had known of it. There has been no formal official call just yet and I don't think we should do anything with this matter until the citizens in mass meeting have a chance at it. It is true that we have no executive committee to make this call and it is equally true that I have no axe to grind. In my opinion we should have a regular system about this most important work and I suggest that we now pass a resolu-tion asking Colonel Abbott, chairman of the last meeting to call the citizens together in a hast meeting to can the citizens together in a mass meeting. It is true that this hall might be small for the meeting but the meeting would be large enough to formulate a plan. I think the meetings should all take place at the same night and I submit this resolution as a substitute for Mr. Corrigan's motion."

The paper read: Resolved, That Hon. B. F. Abbott, chairman of Resolved, That Hon. B. F. Abbott, chairman of the mass meeting of last year at which the citizens' ticket was nominated, be hereby requested to call a mass meeting at an early day, of which due notice shall be given, at which we request that action be taken providing for a preper general plan or system for presenting or nominating a ticket for aldermen and conneilmen'or, the approaching city election: "I'm not stuck particularly on any of the candidates now before us. I'm, however," he went on, "sure that the affairs of Atlanta are so important that they should be handled only by the very best talent we can possibly find in the city. So important and great is the work we have in hand that, in my opinion, no citithe city. So important and great is the work we have in hand that, in my opinion, no citizen should fail to do his whole duty in selecting gentlemen to handle them. There has been no call for this meeting and I fear that such action as indicated by Mr. Corrigan's resolution would be hartful. But since we are here we can discuss the matter and we can discuss the matter and do so advan we can discuss the matter and do so advan-tageously, too. I am not here as a partisan of any candidate, neither am I here to criticise any one, or to condemn any of the ward meet-ings which have been had. Let us consider this matter carefully and dispose of it credit-able."

DID NOT ADJOURN. Colonel Frank Harralson thought the meeting had nothing to do with the question and moved to adjourn.

The motion was voted down.

"If I had any doubt when I came here," said Mr. Corrigan, "as to the sentiment of this meeting, it has been dissipated by the motion to adjourn. The citizens' meeting, to which reference has been made, was a good thing, but it won't do now. It is now but three weeks to the election and we are upon the heels of it. Never before were we so slow about putting out the ticket. Now as to Colonel Abbott, I assume that his duties ended when adjourned the last meeting, and with that his authority expired. Mayor Glonn is the only one authorized to call this mass meeting, and he has refused emphatically to do so. The third ward has put out its ticket in just this way and I has put out its ticket in just this way and I think we have the same right."

COLONEL ELLIS SPEAKS.

Colonel William Ellis, with a roll of papers colonel william Ellis, with a roll of papers in his hand, arose, saying:

"I've no ax to grind, but I'm here for my own benefit as well as that of others. It is, as many of you know, a piece of the unwritten history of Atlanta that I was tendered the nominations for nearly with the roll of the minations for mayor when it was given Mr. enn, and I declined. nominations for mayor when it was given Mr. Glenn, and I declined. I don't want any thing in the way of an office. But I do know that a citizen has just as much right here as an officer has. I put Mr. Harrison in the chair because I knew that he had no cut and dried schemes to work—that he knew nothing of the meeting until he came here. Do you know that I feel satisfied that very few men can define the boundaries of the ward in which he lives. That is because we are all for Atlanta. We have an income upon $30,000,000 here to care for, and we must belect our best men to do the work. Atlanta's taxes are extremely heavy. Do you know that out of every ten dollars spent by the state Atlanta contributes one? What we spend makes our rate almost five per cent. Now, the second ward has voted fifteen hundred people and there are not more than two hundred here. Then, is it fair for us to select for that ward? If I wanted a nomination I could get as many as two hundred objecter any time. Why, I have just as much right in the third ward as I have in the second, because my taxes go there. Now, I have a resolution to read:"

Resolved, That in view of the grave and important neasures constantly coming up for consideration before our city government, and in view of the fact that said government, has on annual income of over a million dollars to expend, it becomes our people carneally to consider the qualification and fitness of candidates for bouncilmen from the wards and aldermen at large. Resolved, That it is tha sense of the citizens of the second ward, in meeting assembled, that a proper way to select good officers and to put down small men and petty schemes, is to have a general mass meeting called in which al' good men of the city shall be invited to participate, and that it would be the duty of said mass meeting to call meetings in each ward of the city shall be invited to participate, and that it would be the duty of said mass meeting to all meeting and there may be no general meeting to the succession of the fact that and to might shall be subject to reconsideration made tonight shall be subject to reconsideration and complete annulment.

Resolved further. That each ward and every citizen of Atlanta have the light to demand that no ward or set of men shall animante men for office whose main qualifications are to secure some man an office or to further some private or personal enterprise. What we demand for ourselves and the people at large in a faithful and economical expenditure of public moley. A reduction of public burdens as far as possible—a careful exercise of the law making public improvement at private expense, and the election of such city officers as shall execute the laws without partiality and with all reasonable consideration for the citizens who pay them for their services.

of home rule, and asserted that the second ward was able to take care of itself. He wanted the nomination then and there.

Judge Hillyer presented another resolution, which he supported in a strong, careful speech. He urged the selection of the very best men, and wanted the tax rate reduced. His resolution read:

wanted the tax rate reduced. His resolution read:

Resolved. That the rate of taxation in the city of Atlanta should be reduced from one and one-half to one and one-fourth per cent; and we demand such economy and conservatism in the city government for the next year as will secure that result.

All the amendments were voted down.

Then Mr. Corrigan's resolution was adopted.

ward said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: Permit me to thank you most heartily for the expression of confidence which you have just given me by giving me your indorsement for the position of alderman. The place is one of great responsibility, involving, as it does, the supervision of the finances of the city. If elected, it will be my aim to see that not a dollar leaves, the city treasury for which a full equivalent is not given. The taxes wrung from the toil of the people should be judiciously handled. Our admirable public school system, our streets, sewers, waterworks and other departments should be kept up to the high state of efficiency they have already attained.

While I accept this mark of your confidence, I want to say one word more. I had nothing to do with the calling of this meeting, and am really pledged to abide by the result of the mass meeting which will be called, but when it was called, my friends insisted that I should show to the world that I could carry my own ward. Now that I have shown my ability to carry it, I want to say that I will not allow the action of tonight to embarrass, in the least, the work of the mass meeting when called. I shall abide faithfully by the result of that mass meeting. My home is in Atlanta, and in her glory and prosperity I share just pride. The harmony of her people is dearer to me than any office. If the people of Atlanta, through their voice expressed in mass meeting, commit this trust to me, I shall bring all diligence and vigilance to the work. Again I thank you."

IN THE FIFTH.

James Sharp Put Out for Council and Eddle James Sharp it is for council in the fifth. He was unanimously indorsed at a mass meeting of the citizens of the fifth ward last

The meeting was held in a vacant store room under Bell's hall on Marietta ttreet. It was decidedly a lively crowd that did the work, and the voting was close on the deciding ballot.

Five candidates were in the field, but the interest in the contest centered on Mr. Sharp and Mr. Joseph Lambert. On the final vote Mr. Lambert lost the nomination by three votes. He immediately, moved that the nomination is a simple of the contest.

Mr. Lambert lost the nomination by three votes. He immediately moved that the nomination be made unanimous, declaring himself out of the race and for the nominee.

THE MEETING.

When the meeting was called to order by Mr. Dan Hall, there were about 150 present.
On the call for nomination of a permanent chairman, the name of Hon. Tyler Cooper, Mr. Stockton and Dr. Hodgson were presented. Mr. Cooper declined the offer for the chairmanship in favor of Dr. Hodgson.

Mr. Stockton was declared elected chairman, but a great deal of excitement was occasioned by the appearance of Dr. Hodgson behind the table. The doctor was just commencing his remarks on the acceptance of the chair when he was interrupted by the cry of:

"Stockton! Stockton!"

"He's the man!"

"Give him the chair!"

"Give him the chair!" Upon this Dr. Hodgson stepped down, and Mr. Stockton took the chair. He explained the misunderstanding of the announcement of the choice of the meeting as made by Mr. Hall, and again rapped the citizens of the fifth to order.

to order.
Mr. J. H. Lynn was elected secretary. The land, Mr. Dan Hall, Mr. James Sharp and Chairman Stockton then announced the object of the meeting, to nominate a candidate for the general council from the fifth ward. He said the meeting ought to select a good wan one who had grit and backbone. If he man, one who had grit and backbone. If he didn't have grit he'd have to crawfish, and the fifth didn't want any more crawfishing.

When the chairman finished there were calls, long and loud for Lambert, the gentleman who had received the indorsement of a man who had received the indersement of a previous meeting.

"I move we appoint a committee of five to report on nominations," said Dr. Hodgson, as soon as the calls subsided.

"No, no, no," shouted the crowd. "We don't want any committee; let the people do it."

The call for nominations was then made. The names of five candidates were presented, Messrs. George E. Johnston, James Sharp, E. S. Paul, Joseph Lambert and J. H. Ellsworth. "Now, I want to introduce a resolution asking every man whose name goes before this meeting and who is not nominated to support the nominated in the fifth ward, but want whoever we put up here tonight to go before the people of Atlanta with the full indorsement of this meeting."

"We ought to adopt that," said Ex-Mayor Cooper, "and we ought to make a majority of the voters of this meeting necessary to a nomination. I second Dr. Hodgson's motion and move that in balloting for a candidate, those receiving the smallest number of votes withdraw, until the choice of the meeting is ascertained."

This was adopted, and the voting begun.
On the first ballott this is the way it stood:
Lambert, 56; Sharp, 34; Johnston, 6; Paul 13, and Ellsworth 11.

On the second ballott Johnston was dropped, but no votes were cast for any of the other except Lambert and Sharp. Mr. Sharp received 64 and Mr. Lambert 61.

After the first ballot the Lambert men felt confident, and were certain of success. But all the scattering votes were thrown to Mr. The call for nominations was then made Sharp, giving him the nomination by a small majority.

THE ALDERMAN.

Quite a sensation was created by the introduction of a resolution indersing candidates for the aldermanic board.

Dr. J. S. Lester was the author of the resolutions. They first indorsed Councilman Woodward, It was tabled. A substitute was then offered with the name of H. M. Beutell inserted, and it also went to the table by a very decided majority.

Befere the meeting broke up, Mr. Ed Payne was indorsed as the choice of the fifth ward for the aldermanic board.

Mr. P. J. Moran was also indorsed.

CANNOT ACCEPT.

"Mr. Sharp cannot, consistently with his business relations, accept the fifth ward nomination," said his brother, Mr. Henry Sharp, last night.

Mr. Dan Hall, who put Mr. Sharp in nomination last night, says that he is authorized to state that Mr. Sharp will accept.

CALL A MASS MEETING.

THE MAJORITY SENTIMENT FAVORS SUCH A COURSE. Mayor Glenn Expresses His Views on the Subject—Some Plans Suggested—Talks With Some Promiuent Citizens. A grand mass meeting of citizens is now almost an assured fact and a call for it will be issued in all probability tomorrow.

Nine out of ten want the mass meeting. Nine out of ten want the mass meeting.

The election is so near at hand that people are commencing to grow nervous and predict all sorts of bad results unless the meeting is called. The trouble has been the absence of any authority to call the meeting but during the day yesterday public attention was directed to Colonel B. F. Abbott, chairman of the last meeting and before dark his power to call the meeting, was generally conceded. Many Atlantians put themselves squarely on record this morning about the mass meeting. his morning about the mass me MAYOR GLENN'S VIEWS.

MAYOR GLEN'S VIEWS.

First Mayor Glenn was asked:

"What do you think of the policy of calling a mass meeting for the purpose of nominating candidates for aldermen and councilmen?"

"I think they should be nominated like the conservative ticket was nominated last year. A mass meeting should be called and should authorize a meeting to be held in each ward, for the purpose of expressing the wishes of the wards as to who should represent them in the council and as aldermen. These ward meetings should elect ten delegates for each ward, and the chairman of the mass meeting should appoint ten dele-gates for the city at large, making a commit tee of seventy which should meet and select proper men as candidates for aldermen and councilmen and report their names to the mass meeting for ratification or such other action as the meeting mry determine upon. In this committee of seventy, in my opinion, the wishes expressed by the ward meetings should be respected unless improper men were presented for nomination. I believe that this is the fairest way to get an expression of the public sentiment, although I am not wedded to it, and will be satisfied with any course taken provided it results in the selection of good men who will represent the people intelligently and honestly in the government of the city."

"Who is the proper person to call this meeting?" proper men as candidates for aldermen ing?"

"I think that Colonel B. F. Abbot, who was chairman of the last mass meeting should issue the call, and I have no doubt that the people will obey his call and assemble in accordance with it.

cordance with it.

CAPTAIN ENGLISH'S OPINION.

Hon. James W. Edglish, chairman of the board of police commissioners, said:

"We should by all means have a mass meeting and the larger the better. It is the only way a successful ticket can be put out and I am heartily in favor of one."

"It is not often that I take it upon myself to speak of an editorial," began Colonel John B. Goodwin, when asked for his views. "But I Goodwin, when asked for his views. "But I do want to say that the editorial in Sunday's Constitutions was timely and was exactly the right thing. You ask my views on a mass meeting. In my opiulon, if any meetings at all are to be held, it should be done systematically. My idea of the proper plan is for Colonel Abbott, who was chairman of the last mass meeting, to call a mass meeting of citizens. Let that meeting fix a time for the wards to meet and elect delegates to a convention, these ward meetings being all held on the same night. Then let these delegates at large chosen by the mass meeting in convention and chosen by the mass meeting in convention and formulate a ticket. This should be reported back to an adjourned session of the first mass meeting—or a new meeting, which ever you choose to call it—for ratification or rejection.

That seems to me the best plan."
MAJOR J. H. KETNER. "If we are to have any meetings, there should be some system to them. I think the mass meeting plan the proper one."

GETS THE BEST MEN.

GETS THE BEST MEN.

"So far as I know all the men offering themselveds for office are good men," said Mr. Charley Northen, "but Atlants's political history will show that the best men can be secured through the mass meetings. Such a man as Hugh Inman, for instance—do you imagine he would have offered himself for council if there had been a scramble for the office? Good men do offer themselves—there is no doubt of that, and nobody knows it better than I do; but as The Constitution showed in Sunday's editorial, the city has a right to demand the services of its very best citizens—men of affairs. I am for the mass meeting by all means." all means."

MR. PORTER KING.

"The mass meeting seems to me the proper thing, though probably a man whose name is mentioned for council ought not to express an opinion," was the way Mr. Portor King put it.

MR. T. D. MEADOR.

"The mass meeting seems to me the proper plap," said Mr. T. D. Meador. "The people should all have the chance to have a voice in making up the ticket which should be thoroughly representative and made up of the best men possible."

PRESIDENT OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. President J. G. Oglesby, of the chamber of commerce is another warm advocate of the mass meeting.

"I approve such a plan very highly," he said. "Without some such movement we are likely to have confusion. The mass meeting insures the best results."

CAPTAIN LOYD'S PLAN.

insures the best results."

"I think the way we have been doing it is the best," said Captain Jim Loyd. "Call a mass meeting of citizens for, say, the court house. Then let them separate into ward meetings, each ward meeting to select ten delegates to represent the ward and two delegates at large. This committee of seventy-two could meet the next night, formulate its ticket, and report it to a mass meeting the third night. Let that mass meeting ratify or reject as it may see fit, but we should have a mass meeting by all means."

JUDGE W. R. HAMMOND'S INDORSEMENT.

"I was just coming up to congratulate you on your editorial in Sunday's paper," said Judge W. R. Hammond. "It is exactly what Atianta needs and must have We want a mass meeting. That mass meeting ought to select a committee of say fifty, and require three-fourths of the committee to nominate. The meeting ought to be called quick. The wards are already at work putting out candidates. Philadelphia used to be the worst governed city in the world, and was run by ward politicians. A committee of one hundred citizens met and determined to take hold of city affairs. Each man of the hundred pledged himself never to run for office nor take any interest in the office. From that day to this they have given Philadelphia the best city government in the United States. Atlanta is prospering beyond precedent, and it would be a shame to let the city fall in the hands of incompetent men, or worse." competent men, or worse suggest that this call be made, asy for Tuesday or Wednesday night, so ast o give an opportunity to the voters of our ward to express their wishes how they wish to be represented and by whom, when the caudidates are brought out before the general citizens' meeting.

It would be too late when that meeting is called to select at random from that mass meeting our committees to bring out our candidates before the committees to bring out our candidates before the committee them selected. It is clearly not about the right of a presiding officer of a mass meeting to appoint a committee from our ward—of five or even ten—to represent us, or to act for our ward. This wouldn't represent the wishes or the will of our people of the first ward. Nor do I think a presiding officer could be found, to assume this duty, without the prior instruction of a meetingheld it pour ward, who we want to act for us. This will not debar any candidate to ask for having his name presented before the general committee, selec,ed by us, and they send to the mass meeting, and ratified by all. I regard a citizens' meeting, the very thing to bring out our candidates to be voted for. But it should be done in accordance with rules, governing other nominations, for officers of government for the people by the advice and consent of our ward representatives, and no set of men should act independently of their neighbors and voters to have a committee appointed on the day or night when the difficens' mass meeting is called. So let us have a call meeting before that time.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock

Exchange. NEW YORK, November 11 .- The unfavorable ank statement of Saturday had its full effect on se stock market today, and it was feverish and irregular on the moderate volume of business Grangers were attacked and St. Paul felt the pres ure severely, and Missouri Pacific was raided, which was stiended with more success than the one on St. Paul. The market in spots, however, was strong, and Atchison and Jersey Central were fea-tures, the latter for the first time in many days, rallying materially from the late depression. Trusts were also strong, but failed to retain all the advance of early dealings. Tennessee coal was specially weak early, but recovered much of the loss later. Another raid was made about delivery hour and considerable impression was made upon prices, but the market closed fairly steady, generally at small fractions under opening prices.

The only changes of importance tonight, are advances of 21% in Manitoba, and 11% in Jersey Central and decline of 11% in Missouri Pacific, Sales cks aggregated 241,000 shares.

NEW YORK, November II.—[Special.]—Henry Clews & Co,'s circular en the cotton market today says. There was a fair demand for spot cotton in Liverpool this morning, and sales of 12,000 bales were made at unchanged prices. Futures opened quiet and barely steady at 1-5ad decline and lost another point later, part of which was recovered, the market closing steadier. Our market was steadily held at the opening and gained 2gd points after the first call on good buying by several prominent bull houses. The advance was checked some little time before the appearance of the bureau report, as its tenor was by some means whispered around. When it was formally made known prices broke under the pressure of heavy selling for both long and short account. There was a general design on the part of the local conventors to get rid of long and short account. There was a general desire on the part of the local operators to get rid of their purchases made on unfavorable predictions a few days ago. The report created very little attention one way or the other. It there is any damaging feature in the report it is confined to the Carolinas and Mississippi. Other states show a good condition of affairs, with a few exceptions, and the well balanced element expect a lower range of prices intermingled here and there with slight fluctuations. The closing prices show a net decline of 10% 12 points from the highest of the day, the tone 106/12 points from the highest of the day, the tone being decidedly weak. Enormous receipts at the ports and interior towns added to the weakness. Spot cotton ruled quiet and steady and quotably unchanged. The total receipts at the various ports today were 62,356 bales, against 46,487 bales last year. Our private information from various sources, especially the dull districts speake rather encouragingly of the crop situation.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions. CHICAGO, November 11, - Wheat-There was a light trade and no features were presented. A prominent local trader was reported as giving some support to the market, only, however, in the way of endeavoring to sustain present prices. Commission houses did only a small business. European markets were quoted dull and prices tending down.

A decrease in the quantity of wheat on ocean passage was predicted. The receipts in the northwest continue liberal. Receipts at eleven points footed up 1,099,000 bushels and shipments from the same points 378,000 bushels. The principal points of increase were Buffalo, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis and New York, and the decreases were mainly at Baitimore, Detroit, Toledo, Kansas City, Philadelphia and smaller points. The market ruled steady all through the session, fluctuations being confined within %c range and the closing was about the same as Saturday Corn.—A fair trade was reported, though market was quiet early in the session, but later be-came more active. The market opened with an came more active. The market opened with an easy feeling prevailing, and was inactive for some time, today's arrivals running over expectations. A good many scattering orders came on the market, and prices advanced ½ to ½ shorts for December and year covering. The visible supply of 626,000 bushels was not as large as expected.

Oats were steadier, with a fair volume of business in all futures. Shorts bought liberally, and prices for November was bild up ½ without a trade. May, however, was sold by longs about as freely as buyers cared to take it, and the price held steady.

Trading in fliess pork was more active, with January delivery attracting most attention. The feeluary delivery attracting most attention. The feeling was firmer, and prices advanced 10@12c and closed comparatively steady.

Only a fair trade in lard and feeling was stronger.

Only a fair trace in lard and feeling was stronger. Prices ruled 23/265c higher and the appreciation was moderately well supported.

More life was manifested in short ribs, and a stronger feeling was developed. Prices were advanced 23/265c and the market closed steady. The following was the range in the leading ful

WILL CONVENE TODAY.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Grand Master Workman Powderly Arrived Tals Morning-The Work Outlined for the Convention-Some of the Leaders. Grand Master Workman T. V. Powderly

At 10 o'clock today he will call the annual national convention of the Knights of Labor to order, in the Knights of Honor hall, at the corner of Broad and Marietta streets. NO CONTESTS.

The committee on credentials met at the Kimbali house yesterday and for the first time in the history of the organization they were able to perform their duties without a single contest being made over the election of a delegate. A few protests were received, however, which the committee recognized as arising from personal spite and paid no attention to.

The committee on credentials is committee. from personal spite and paid no attention to.

The committee on credentials is composed of Mr. James Campbell, chairman; Mr. Sanger, of Montreal; Mr. Harris, of Cincinnat; Mrs. Stevens, of Ohio, and Charles Metz, of Baltimore. Their duties were to examine the credentials of each deligate and ascertain if the assembly which they represent is in good standing. All the credentials are made out in the control of duplicate. The ones examined yesterday came by mail, and only those having the corresponding papers will be admitted to the hall. In all 150 credentials were found to be correct. There may, however, be a few more delegates, as some of the very distant assembly districts have entrusted the correct of their correct pages of their correct pages

MANY LEADERS HERE. The hall of the Kimball house was the place of meeting last night for most of the knights who had arrived. Many of the leaders of the organization were there. They came from every part of the country and as a rule they seemed well acquainted with each other, having met for several years past at every annual convention. There were also many new faces. The members of the order appeared to have no difficulty in recognizing each other although they were no badges or insignia except in 8 difficulty in recognizing each other although they were no badges or insignia except in a few instances when a small bronze button inscribed with a globe and triangle was worn.

The condition of the order and the work which would be accomplished by the convention were the chief subjects of conversation among the delegates. They all agreed that the present meeting would be the most harmonious and effective one ever held. It was the general opinion that never had the knights been so powerful as they now are and never been so powerful as they now are and never had the outlook for the future been so bright. PRINCIPLES TO BE AGITATED.
principles of vital interest to the hights will be agitated during the conven-tien, besides others of lesser import.

First and foremost, a demand for the Aus-tralian ballot will be made, and every menfber of the order will be instructed to work his best to have the new system of voting adopted.

The knights will also advocate that the goverment of the country assume control of all railroads, telegraphs, and also of the transpor-tation of freights. A strong oppes tion to national banks will ed, so that the money may be issued directly to the people.

The delegates will be instructed to use their best efforts to have the legislators of their states make it illegal to employ children under fifteen years of age in their factories, and equal pay for equal work by both sexes will be re-

FEDERATION WITH THE ALLIANCE. FEDERATION WITH THE ALLIANCE.
In order that some of their designs may the more easily be worked to a successful issue an offensive and defensive alliance will be formed with farmers' alliance. This has already been done in the western states, and the knights claim that immense power has been gained by both organizations in consequence of the union. President L. F. Livingston has been invited to be present at the convention, and before it closes he is expected to make a speech stating the views of the alliance.

expected to make a speech stating the views of the alliance.

General Worthy Foreman Wheat, chairman of the co-operative board, ranks next among the knights to Grand Master Workman Powderly. He is a typical leader and organizer of men. Large of frame, with strong features and a mouth every line of which betokens s.rength of will far beyond the common, his eyes are clear and piercing, and his light hair and mustache all go to form a man who would be chosen from among thousands as a leading spirit.

Ever since its inception he has been a central figure among the knights, and he is able to give the reasons for the great boom of three year ago, of the sudden falling away of the henbership, and of the present prosperous condition of the order. THE KNIGHTS ON A BOOM.

THE KNIGHTS ON A BOOM.

He said last night that the great boom came with the general rush of all laboring men who saw in the Knights of Labor a means of obtaining high wages with as little work as possible. When these men found that the order would not assist them in their strikes they left it and thousands of them were despect for would not assist them in their strikes they left it, and thousands of them were dropped for non-payment of dues. This caused a stagnation, but only for a while. The reason-ing and best element of labor found that the knights were working in a conservative way and they began to take the places of the desaffected. Since the first of last January 700 local assemblies had been formed and now the order is so presented.

700 local assemblies had been formed and now the order is so prosperous that orders have been sent out to enroll as few members as possible and those only of the best class.

Among the other prominent members at the Kimball last night were J. B. Rae, master workman of district 135 of coal miners. He claimed that the Pennsylvania mines were coming into line with amazing rapidity and during the past month, forty new assemblies had been formed in his district.

The annual meetings have hitherto remained in session for between two and three weeks.

The annual meetings have interest remained in session for between two and three weeks. Everything this year, however, promises to work so smoothly that ten days, it is estimated, will be sufficient to complete the business.

From Havana to Atlanta.

Mr. A. L. Cuesta, Atlanta cigar manufacturer, has received this week a large lot of the famous Manuel Garcia imported esgars which he is selling at the lowest price. Besides he has received a fine lot of the new Cuban leaf tobacco which he is making in his choice brands of cigars, and which are compared by his many customers equal to the best imported Havanas. Among his best brands the Ponce DeLeon, a favorite ten cent cigar, isgrowing in popularity with every smoker who tries them, and the Latest Craze takes the lead of the five cent cigar in the market. On his commodious floor over Stoney, Gregory & Co., he is making a large quantity of cigars, the demand of which is steadily increasing, owing to their well-deserved merits and the low price at which they are sold. Mr. Cuesta, who is an experienced cigar manufacturer, has created a name for his cigars, and the public patronize him liberally. For Tired Brain
Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
Dr. O. C. STOUT. Syracuse, N. Y., says: "I gave it to one patient who was unable to transact the most ordinary business, because his brain was 'tired and confused' upon the least mental exertion. Immediate benefit, and ultimate recovery followed."

A Young Woman Causes a Sensation on Shortly after the Georgia fast mail rain passed Conyers on its way to Atlanta yesterday afternoon, quite a sation was created car by the apparent death struggles of a young woman.

She boarded the train at Augusta, and had been reclining on her seat for some time when her condition was observed.

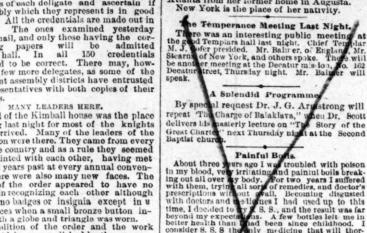

Just after passing Conyers she appeared to be suffering a great deal, and calling for a pillow, laid down. Her loud breathing soon attracted the attention of other passengers, and two physicians who were on the conditions of the control of t soon attracted the attention of other passengers, and two physicians who were on the train came to her assistance. They administered such remodies as were at hand, and when the train arrived in Atlanta, about two o'clock, she was taken off by parties who came to meet her and carried to Abbie Howard's, on Collins street.

Emetics soon restored her to consciousness, and in a beau first street.

and in an hour she was out, apparently as well

After her recovery she stated that she simply took an overdose of morphine.

She gave her name as Gail Montague, and said that she had only been six weeks in Atlanta from her former home in Augusta. New York is the place of her nativity.

The First in the South. The First in the South.

Ladies visiting Atlanta are invited to call and consult, if needed, Atlanta's most eminent female physician, Mrs. Rosa F. Monnish, M. D., the first and only lemaie physician in her specialty south. She occdpies with her husband, Dr. W. A. Monnish, the elegant three-story building at the junction of Peachtree, North Forsyth and Church streets, erected for her special use. Ladies' reception rooms, office and dispensary situated on first floor, while the two upper stories are used for a sanitarium. All modern conveniences, hot and cold water, gas, electric calls, etc., in every room: in fact, acknowl-All modern conveniences, hot and cold water, gas, electric calls, etc., in every room: in fact, acknowledged the handsomest and best appointed sanitarium, enjoying the most liberal patronage of the ladies south. This sanitarium is not to be compared with other institutions or sanitariums, as the sanitarium and dispensary of Mrs. Dr. Monuish is for ladies only, and therefore strictly private. All patients remaining in the sanitarium receive separate rooms and enjoy the privileges and comforts of a first class home.

Connected with the sanitarium, but in a separate building, is a lying-in home for ladies who wish to be strictly private during confinement, where they will receive the best of atiention compatible with their comfort and health.—adv

An Interesting Thought!

200,000. 200,000 Organs.

200,000 Estey Organs. 200,000 Estey Organs have been manufactured. Think of it. Try and realize what it means. It is one crgan finished every week since Noah built Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all compite in seven hours? No doubt it would, but it would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begun before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888. They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only. They have sold them.

No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite, that it is the best value for the money invested, that it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs.
You can't make any mistake up choosing an ES

TEY, for the great majority is with you. Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sept 18—tf

MANY NEW MEMBERS TO THE CHAM-BER OF COMMERCE.

The Limit of Membership Will Probably be Reached in a Few Days-Three Hundred and Fifty the Limit.

The membership list of the chamber of commerce business continues to grow.

Every mail brings to President Oglesby applications for membership under the recent of fer of the chamber, and the indications are within a few days at most.

There seems to be a misunderstanding about the conditions of admittence.

At the meeting of the chamber held July 9th, resolutions were adopted changing the admission fee from $100 to $20,00 with the provise as expressed in the resolutions, "that not less than 100 members be admitted at this reduction." The membership is limited to 350. This offer has already been very extensively taken advantage of, as the lists which have appeared from time to time in the columns of THE CONSTITUTION show. The time is short and all who contemplate joining would do well to send in their names at once. The board will hold but one more regular meeting for the election of new members before the time expires for admission at the $20 initiation fee. MORE NEW MEMBERS.

ABOUT THE CAPITOL.

News reached Colonel Towers, chief keeper of the state penitentiary, from Chatham county yesterday that Albert Grant is much wanted. Grant has just completed a two years' term of service for assault. He became elated when released, and in a playful mood he sought his former home. Finding things not exactly as he expected there only served to exhilerate him a trifle more, and in a paroxism of high spirits he seized a razor and cut his wife's throat from ear to ear. Colonel Towers is requested to send a description of the man, as, after his playful act, he took to the woods, and has not since returned.

Comptroller-General Wright signed a permit yesterday allowing the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company to do business in Georgia. The assets of the company are $87,460,649, and it has a gross surplus of $85,665,079,59. The headquarters of the company will be located in Atlanta, and will be under the charge of Mr. John B. Cook. He will be assisted for the present by Mr. Francis E. Brownell, but when other agencies are established, Mr. Brownell will be transferred to another city.

"Oh, my back!" is a common exclamation, and expresses a world of misery and suffering. It is singular this pain arises from such various causes. Kidney disease, liver complaint, wasting affections, colds, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork and nervous debility are chief causes. When thus ailing, seek prompt relief. It can be found best in Brown's Iron Bitters. It builds up from the foundation by making the blood rich and pure. Leading physicians and ministers use and recommend it. It has cured many, and if you are a sufferer, try it.

The great state of Illinois never made more nor better wheat than last year. No state in the union grows better wheat, and few as good. Bakers tell us Illinois flour has more strength and sweetness than other flours, consequently makes more and better bread. For good bread use flour that always rises, retains the strength and sweetness of the wheat and cooks white.
